He is unmarried, about middle-aged and possesses many of the qualities that go to make a successful minister. For several years he has had charge of a work with St. Peter's parish, New York city. THE S. C. EXPOSITION.

Atlantic Coast Line Will Have Fine Service for Charleston's Big Show.

OFFICERS VISITED GROUNDS.

New Schedules Being Arranged for Holding the Crowds—Additional Southern Trains for Wilmington Beginning Next Monday.

Mr. T. M. Emerson, traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, who was in the city yesterday, gave a good account of what his company would do for Charleston in the way of fine trains for the Exposition. Mr. Emerson has been at work on a special schedule, which will be in shape very shortly. On account of the heavy business which is sure to follow the opening of the Exposition the passenger department will be prepared to give a first-class service in every particular, and with fast and fine schedules the Atlantic Coast Line will be able to get a big share of the travel. Mr. Emerson said yesterday that he was sending out great batches of advertising matter, and he believed that there would be a splendid attendance at the Exposition. "Great interest is being taken in the enterprise," he said, "and the railroad people are doing their best to help out. When our new service is arranged it will show marked improvements and Charleston will get all the benefit possible." The new train between Charleston and Wilmington will be put on next Sunday, and beginning December 1st, dining cars will be operated by the Coast Line between Charleston and New York. Slight changes will be made in the schedules. The Florida special will make the first trip out from New York early in January and this train will probably do the heaviest business ever known.

While in the city yesterday the visiting officials of the Atlantic Coast Line, and the Directors of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway Company made a trip to the Exposition grounds and were charmed with the big show. It was rather disagreeable weather to be out, but the visitors were anxious to see the work. Col. C. S. Gadsden took charge of the party and pointed out the various buildings from the window of his carriage.

Rousing Meetings for Men Are Being Held Each Night—Special Music.

Rev. J. A. Dorritee, of Charlotte, arrived yesterday via the S. A. L., and conducted a rousing meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. last night. His subject was, "A Great Man," and his discourse was both entertaining and profitable. Rev. Mr. Dorritee will remain in the city during the "week of prayer" at the Association, and will conduct meetings for men each night. He is an earnest worker, a forcible speaker, and one whom the Y. M. C. A. has done well to secure.

There will be special music each night. Last evening a solo was charmingly rendered by Miss Anne McL. Taylor, and the regular choir also rendered a number of effective numbers.

Rev. Mr. Dorritee will speak tonight on "Lessons from the Life of Paul." Mrs. Latta will sing. Sunday afternoon Mr. Dorritee will conduct the men's meeting in the afternoon, and to all of the services men are cordially invited.

"THE WRONG MR. WRIGHT."

One of Broadhurst's Famous Comedies at the Opera House Saturday Night.

"The Wrong Mr. Wright," which will be presented at the Opera House next Saturday, matinee and night, is Broadhurst's and in his funniest vein and the people of the play, Seymour Sites, the arrested employer, Henrietta Oliver, the lady detective, the English "Lady Killer," Lord Brazenface, and all the rest of them are characters that only Broadhurst could draw successfully.

This amusing comedy will be headed by that clever young comedian, Mr. John Allison, whom the patrons of the Opera House will doubtless remember as the quick-witted drummer, Jones, in "What Happened to Jones," produced here two seasons ago. "The Wrong Mr. Wright" was Roland Reed's most famous success. Sale of seats begins to-morrow at Gerken's. Matinee prices 25 and 50 cents.

Mr. R. W. Vincent, formerly editor of the Evening Dispatch, this city, has been promoted to the position of managing editor of the Newport News Herald and the Evening Times, of Newport News, Va., both of which papers are now owned by a Richmond capitalist. Mr. Vincent rose to the new position from a reportorial one and his rapid rise will be a source of much gratification to numerous friends in Wilmington.

Rev. L. B. Boney.

Rev. L. B. Boney, of Wilmington, has a call to the pastorate of Lisbon Baptist church, Bladen county, and will announce his decision to accept or decline on the first Sunday in December, when he will preach to the congregation. Mr. Boney already has charges at Magnolia, Natmore and Wootten's chapel. He has given up his work at Delgado and Blackwell's chapel.

JOINT PYTHIAN MEETING.

Local Lodges Were Last Night the Guests of Jefferson No 61—Informal Though Enjoyable Entertainment.

Members of the four Pythian lodges of the city were most hospitably entertained last night in Castle Hall in joint meeting by Jefferson Lodge No. 61, Chancellor Commander W. L. Holden presiding. There was a good attendance and much enthusiasm was manifest.

The entertainment committee, consisting of Messrs. L. J. Cooper, (chairman,) C. D. Weeks, H. F. Haar and Jno. H. Gore, Jr., provided a rather informal programme, but one altogether enjoyable and beneficial to the members at large.

Past Chancellor Commander Jas. C. Morrison read a very entertaining paper on "Wear the Button," and there were interesting remarks upon the subject by a number of those present, including Messrs. W. C. Smith, W. F. Robertson and others.

Mr. J. D. Nutt, chairman of the building committee, gave a very pleasing outline of the "Pythian Home" which will soon be established in the Murchison National Bank building.

The question of whether it is advisable to continue the plan of having monthly joint meetings in lieu of the quarterly district meetings through the next year was introduced and representatives from each of the four lodges represented spoke very much in favor of continuance. The last of the joint meetings will be held with Germania Lodge in December unless it is decided to continue them through another year.

Rev. J. A. Dorritee, of Rathbone Lodge, Charlotte, was introduced to the meeting by Mr. H. E. Bonitz and pleasantly entertained the gathering with a short address which was in happy vein. Dr. W. C. Galloway also made a few interesting remarks.

After the lodge exercises the entertainment committee provided a course of refreshments which was greatly enjoyed.

Small Blazes Yesterday.

Two alarms of fire called out the department yesterday, but neither of the blazes caused damage of consequence. The first, at 12:30 P. M., from box 16, was on account of a small fire started by sparks from the chimney of the residence of Mrs. Grace Blue, 307 Brunswick street. At 1:30 o'clock a telephone alarm called the chemical engine to No. 21 South Sixteenth street, where there was a small blaze on the roof of a house belonging to Mr. T. O. Bunting and occupied by James Moore, colored. The damage in neither instance amounted to more than $10.

Acknowledgment of Sympathy.

Capt. J. M. McGowan, keeper of records and seals of Eyota Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, yesterday received the following acknowledgement of a telegram of sympathy sent to Mrs. McKinley by the lodge upon the occasion of the shooting of the President at Buffalo: "Mrs. McKinley acknowledges with grateful appreciation the tender expressions of sympathy extended to her in her sorrow of Sept. 19th."

Elks' Memorial Service.

All arrangements are complete for the Elks' memorial service to be held by the Wilmington lodge on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1st, in the Opera House. There will be a splendid musical programme and an oration by Fred Harper, Esq., of Lynchburg, Va. The arrangement committee is composed of W. F. Robertson, (chairman,) Henry J. Gerken, L. Stein, J. L. Solomon and Jack Bellamy.

No Maliciousness Shown.

Scipio Ashe, the negro arrested Tuesday afternoon for turning in a false fire alarm from Front and Orange streets, was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday at noon, but no malicious intent was shown and he was discharged. William Miller, who was arrested for interfering with the arrest was also discharged at the request of Alderman George Harriss, who had him taken in custody.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE

REPORTS VERY GRATIFYING.

Directors Re-elected and Other Business of Routine Character Transacted. Deaths of Mr. Newcomer and Mr. Risch Announced.

(News and Courier, 20th.)

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway, a property of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, was held in Charleston yesterday. A number of high officials of the Atlantic Coast Line came to attend the meeting. Officers were re-elected. The report of President John B Cleveland showed that the affairs of the road were in splendid shape.

The directors elected were the following: Michael Jenkins, W. G. Elliott, Henry Walters, John B Cleveland, J. O. C. Fleming, J. A. Brock, Avery Patton, D. A. P. Jordan and J. P Doughty. The directors re-elected Mr. Cleveland president of the railroad, Mr. Walters vice president, and Mr. J. F. Post secretary and treasurer. Mr. J. R. Kenly was re-elected general manager, Mr. T. M. Emerson, traffic manager, and Mr. C. S. Gadsden was elected acting general auditor.

Among the visiting directors at the meeting yesterday were: Messrs. Michael Jenkins, Waldo Newcomer and Henry Walters, of Baltimore; W. G. Elliott, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, of Wilmington; J. B. Cleveland, Spartanburg; J. O. C. Fleming, Laurens; J. A. Brock, Anderson; Avery Patton, Greenville, and D. A. P. Jordon, of Greenwood. Other railroad men at the meeting were: Mr. J. F. Divine, general superintendent; Mr. J R Kenly, general manager, and Mr. T. M. Emerson, traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, and Mr. Thomas Wilson, president of the Northwestern Railroad of South Carolina.

President Cleveland, of the Charleston and Western Carolina, submitted his annual report, which was adopted. He showed that the company was in exceptionally fine condition. Mr. Cleveland referred in feeling terms to the death of Mr. B. F. Newcomer, of Baltimore, one of the directors, and spoke also of the death of Mr. W. A. Risch, the general auditor. Mr. Jenkins, of Baltimore, who was elected director, took the place made vacant by Mr. Newcomer's death.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Northwestern Railroad Company, of South Carolina, was also held yesterday. This road, which is an Atlantic Coast Line property, is generally known as "Tom Wilson's road," and the ability with which President Wilson has looked after it was shown in the fact that a dividend of 6 per cent. for the year was declared. President Wilson's report was gratifying and showed that the property was in first class condition. He was re-elected by the directors. The directors elected were: Henry Walters, W. G. Elliott, J. F. Divine, J. R. Kenly, J. F. Rhame and Thos. Wilson. The directors elected J. F. Post secretary and treasurer and S. G. LeGrand acting general auditor.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 21.

NOT FOR RECIPROCITY.

Senator Hale, of Maine, is one of the leading Republican Senators and wields considerable influence among his Republican colleagues. The utterances of such men are worthy of notice as indicative to a greater or less extent of the policies which his colleagues in Congress may favor. There has been much talk of reciprocity, and much talk of tariff revision, for there can be no substantial reciprocity without tariff revision, and whatever some of the Republicans in Congress may do as to both of these the indications are accumulating and becoming stronger that there will be no material action on either.

Several days ago Congressman Payne, of New York, in an interview with the President, took strong grounds against any tariff revision whatever. He was followed by Senator Quay, a friend of the Steel Trust, who advised against any interference with the trust or any revision of the tariff on trust controlled articles. Conventions of manufacturers have been held and they have sent committees to call upon the President to say that they were in favor of reciprocity, but opposed to any revision of the tariff that would open our markets to European competition. They all sing the song that the Dingley tariff is the perfection of tariff legislation, and that to it we are indebted for the grand strides our manufacturers have made and the remarkable expansion of our export business within the past few years. They all seem to have forgotten Mr. McKinley's last speech, delivered at Buffalo, when he said he thought the time had arrived when the protective duties could and should be removed from articles which it had been shown could be manufactured as cheaply in this as in any other country. The only Republicans in Congress who seem disposed to follow the advice of the President, whom they all professed to hold in such high esteem, are Mr. Babcock and the small number who agree with him, but they are characterized as "free traders" by Hon. Chas. H. Grosvenor, Mr. McKinley's friend, when Mr. McKinley was alive. We do not know of a single leading, representative Republican in active politics, with the exception of Mr. Babcock, who has unequivocally declared for tariff revision, and he goes only so far as to advocate revision on articles controlled by trusts which are sold for a lower price in foreign markets than they are in the home market.

But we started to call attention to the views of Senator Hale as significant and indicative of the probable outcome of reciprocity and tariff revision. He is in Washington now, where he was interviewed on these and other questions, the substance of which is thus given by the Washington Post:

"I do not believe in commissioning vagrant negotiators to hunt up reciprocity treaties, and I do not believe Congress will be much troubled by such treaties.'

"In these few terse words Senator Hale, now back in Washington for the session of Congress, after the Summer spent at his home in Maine, expressed his conviction yesterday regarding the much-discussed instruments drawn by Special Commissioner Kasson, and now vigorously pressed from certain quarters for ratification this Winter by the Senate and House.

"Does that statement mean that you are opposed to all reciprocity?" the Senator was asked as he sat by a window of his Sixteenth street residence, talking of current politics.

"'I am not for the kind of reciprocity which is sought for to-day by the free traders and by our foreign rivals, who are affected unfavorably by the Dingley tariff bill,' he replied with deliberation. 'I believe in the kind of reciprocity which Mr. Blaine introduced and which encourages the interchange of our products that other countries do not produce for their products which we do not produce.

"In demonstrating further his opposition to the pending trade treaties, Senator Hale added: 'I do not believe in the reciprocity which cuts down the duty upon French and British West India and Canadian manufactures and products that compete directly with ours and that are grown and manufactured by labor half paid, as compared with our labor. I recognize fully the immense benefit to American labor and American industries conferred by the Dingley tariff bill, which has, by its encouragement to our own labor, enabled us to furnish the products of the farm, the mine and the mill to foreign countries at such rates as have already gained for us nearly all the trade of the civilized world that is worth having.'

"Then you do not altogether sympathize with the propaganda for searching out new opportunities for trade!" was remarked.

"I am not in favor of imperilling this condition," the Senator answered, "by a 'wild hunt for new markets,' which have never had and never will have any trade of commerce at all comparable to the vast trade and the immense exports from the country to our great rivals. I am not a dreamer over what is called 'the trade of the Orient,' which, aside from the trade with Japan, in which we are already fully established, cuts no figure compared with the trade of the civilized world, except in the imagination."

This, as far as Senator Hale is concerned, or as his influence may go, is throwing a pretty wet blanket on the advocates of reciprocity, and the hunters for new markets. The kind of reciprocity he believes in that "encourages interchange of our own products that other countries do not produce for their products, which we do not produce," would be reciprocity not worth the time devoted to patching it up. We produce nearly everything worth talking about which any other country produces, save some articles that are produced in tropical countries and we produce some of these. That kind of reciprocity isn't worth talking about. It would be simply a farce. But that is the only kind of reciprocity Senator Hale will favor, and that is the only kind that a good many of the Republican statesmen will favor. They will oppose any kind that will materially interfere with they Dingley tariff and the protection it gives to the manufacturers, or lessen the grip they have on the home market.

Here is an illustration of how their opposition to substantial reciprocity works. In the Eastern States to-day the people pay from twenty to thirty cents a pound for beef and other fresh meats, with other kinds of meat in proportion. There is opposition to reciprocity with Canada. If we had reciprocity with that country the people of the East would get good beef, mutton, etc., for one-half the price they have to pay for it now, and the Western cattle raisers wouldn't be hurt a particle by it, for it isn't they who reap the benefit of these high prices, but the butcher kings who control the meat business and make their own prices. And so would the people of the East get numerous things consumed in the household from Canada, saving them millions of dollars annually paid to the trusts which control the food supplies. But that kind of reciprocity the Hale school of statesmen do not want, and will not have.

There is one thing in this, however, in which we agree with Senator Hale, and that is in his estimation of the exaggerated importance and possibilities of the much talked of, but delusive markets of the Orient, in looking to which we have overlooked much more promising markets nearer home.

A FAMILY COMBINE.

Hon. Jeter C. Pritchard, who for seven years has been warming a seat in the United States Senate, and had charge of the distribution of federal jobs in this State, does not seem to have done that to the entire satisfaction of all of his party associates. Some of them seem not only not to be entirely satisfied but are in high dudgeon about it. One of these, Mr. J. M. Patterson, secretary of the Republican Executive Committee, Western district, N. C., through the Charlotte Observer, propounds the following inquiries to the distinguished pap provider:

"DEAR SIR—The Republicans of North Carolina took you out of obscurity and placed you in the United States Senate. Because of your supposed ability they selected you as their leader and now want to ask you these questions:

"How many of your relatives or all who are in any way connected with your family have you recommended for office and how many of them have you had appointed? The Republican party in North Carolina has in every State platform for thirty years condemned all office-holding rings and ring-doodles. With full knowledge of this, you have for seven years that you have been our leader used all your influence to form a ring in our party for your own interests and you have thereby done the Republican party in North Carolina a great injury. To prove what I say is true I will give you the names of the office holding families: First, the Deaver and Patterson families: A. C. Patterson, J. M. Patterson, A. S. Patterson, R. O. Patterson, J. A. Brown, James Logan, C. C. Brown, Ollie Fitzgerald, Alice Fitzgerald, Sherman Rollins, Vernon Rollins, Hattie Rollins, W. H. Deaver, Boyce Deaver, Clyde Deaver, John W. McElroy, Robert McElroy, C. M. Featherstone; Harkins and Candler families: H. S. Harkins, Geo. Harkins, Mrs Case, H. C. Jones, J. M. Candler, Geo. Candler, Chas. Candler, Herschel Candler, Robert King; Shook family: Hon. J. Wiley Shook, M. C. Shook, H. C. Shook, Jno. W. Shook.

"Senator Pritchard, the Republicans of North Carolina selected you to represent all the people of our State and we expected you to exhibit some of the qualities of a statesman and not to use your time in building up an office holding ring for your own personal benefit. I have read your speech in the Register. As you are an aspirant for re-election to the U. S. Senate I ask you in behalf of the Republicans of North Carolina to answer these questions and give to them a satisfactory reason for the course you have taken in the distribution of the patronage placed in your hands.

"Very truly,

"J. M. PATTERSON."

J. M. Patterson appears in the list of Hon. Jeter C.'s bounty beneficiaries, but perhaps the propounder of these interrogatories is some other J. M., or may be he didn't get a chunk in proportion to his size and appetite. However that may be, the exhibit he makes shows that the job-providing Senator looked well after his kinfolk.

But why find fault with him for taking care of his own and "building up an office-holding ring?" Isn't he simply following the precedent of all the Republican statesmen who have bobbed up in this part of the public domain? They may not all have proved such generous family providers, but then perhaps they all didn't have so many kinfolk to look after. Of course they will be expected to cooperate and hustle to prevent him from going back to "the obscurity" whence the Republicans pulled him, under the delusion that he had in him the material to make a statesman, that is if they ever thought of that, which they probably didn't.

ONE OBSTACLE REMOVED.

The abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and the substitution of another by which Great Britain waives the rights on the isthmus claimed under the abrogated treaty, removes, as far as Great Britain is concerned, that obstacle to the building of the Nicaragua canal under the exclusive supervision and control of the United States. While providing that there shall be no discrimination in tolls as between the ships of this country and of Great Britain, the right of this Government is recognized to fortify and protect in case of war and to guarantee the neutrality of the canal, which is to be open to the commerce of the world.

The English papers, while admitting that this may be an apparent surrender to the United States, claim that it is a clear triumph of British diplomacy, made possible by the blundering of the United States Senate in refusing to ratify the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty submitted, and that there is a substantial gain in securing the right of way on the same terms with Americans, while surrendering something which the British Government would never have thought seriously of asserting if questioned. In other words, Great Britain gets all the benefits of such a canal without any of the expense or responsibility of caring for or protecting it. That's about the way it really is, but it is better that way if this Government is to put its money in this enterprise than to have any misunderstanding about it.

Great Britain being out the way this Government can now proceed to arrange by treaty with the Governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica for the recognition by them of this country's perpetual right to supervise, control and protect the canal from outside or inside interference, and then the only obstacle left will be the Pacific Railway Companies, which have been fighting and putting obstacles in the way of this enterprise from the beginning. They will still have their lobbyists in Washington to fight it, but they should be spotted, sat down upon heavily, and this great work entered upon and pushed without further fooling or parley.

A 25-foot python in the Central Park, New York, menagerie, surprised his keepers the other day by making a lunch of a three-foot 125-pound alligator, after the python had been served a pretty good breakfast, too. They have accordingly removed the other alligators and every other live thing out of that fellow's reach.

Two Philadelphia girls who were weary of the monotony of life in that town, have started for Turkey, with the hope of being kidnapped by the Bulgarian brigands. But as they have thus served notice on the brigands, they will doubtless keep out of the way of these Philadelphia girls.

Dr. C. J. MOFFETT, St. Louis, Mo.—I can truly say that your TEETHINA is the greatest blessing to teething children that the world has ever known. I have used it two years, and do not like to be without a box all the time. My baby would hardly have lived through his second summer if I had not used your powders. He is now strong and well, and has all his teeth. I never allow an opportunity to pass without recommending TEETHINA to mothers. May God reward you for the good you have done teething babies through this remedy. Respectfully, MRS. A. G. RUSSELL.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The report of the Isthmian Canal commission is understood to recommend the Nigaragnan route, with eight locks and a depth of thirty five feet. The estimated cost is $200,000,000 and the time of construction ten years. The completion of the Panama Canal, it is estimated, would cost $143,000,000 exclusive of allowance for work already done.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—The advocates of subsidies have occasionally represented that the American producers were deficient in shipping facilities, and that the subsidies would add to the number of vessels by which exports could be sent out. But they have been careful not to promise lower, rates, and it would convict them of double dealing if they did make such a promise of suggestion.—New York Journal of Commerce, Ind.

—Republics are said to be ungrateful, but a statesman who serves an absolute monarch is not always without his reward. It is stated that the Dowager Empress of China has conferred the rank of marquis on Li Hung Chang's eldest son, and decreed that it shall extend through twenty-three generations. As this will probably reach through two-thirds of a thousand years, the family of the dead statesman have no grounds for complaint of neglect.—Jacksonville Times-Union, Dem.

—The visit to Mr. Roosevelt of Rene Negolmockers, of Paris, has brought out the interesting intelligence that the Trans-Siberian railroad will use American built sleeping cars. This bit of news is not astonishing to Americans who have grown accustomed to our supremacy in much that pertains to both the roadbed and the rolling stock of transportation companies. The curious feature of the affair is that in this instance the real reason for our good fortune in securing this immense contract is the time limit. The need of the cars is so pressing that Russia has been forced to come to us in order to secure the desired material within the time granted by the imperial authorities. American hustle has frequently proved the decisive factor in many rivalries between this nation and its competitors, both in commercial and military struggles.—Baltimore Herald, Rep.

THE TROUBLESOME CORN.

How to Treat This Painful Growth on the Foot.

A corn is an overgrowth of the horny layer of some portion of the skin of the foot induced by friction or under pressure in one spot by the shoe, says Youth's Companion. It is situated generally on a prominent portion of one of the toes, more commonly the little toe, but may be on the sole of the foot or even on the ankle bone.

The first thing to do for a corn is to get new shoes that are so snug as not to rub the foot anywhere and so loose as not to make pressure in one spot more than in another.

The top of the corn may be pared with a sharp knife, extreme care being taken, especially in the case of the aged, not to cut the sound skin, or it may be filed down to the level of the surrounding skin, or the entire corn may sometimes be loosened with a dull knife blade or by the finger nail and extracted from its bed.

When this cannot be done, removal may be facilitated by moistening the corn every other day with glacial acetic acid, the softened part being subsequently scraped away with a dull knife or a small file. A salve containing salicylic acid applied every night will also frequently loosen the corn so that it can be pulled out. This is the basis of many of the popular corn plasters.

A soft corn, which is merely a corn that is always moist on account of its location on the inner surface of one of the toes, should be treated by keeping a piece of absorbent cotton between the toes so as to prevent maceration and by bathing it frequently with strong alum water.

How to Buy Oilcloth.

In buying an oilcloth for a floor endeavor to obtain one that was manufactured several years before, as the longer it has been made previous to use the better it will wear, from the paint becoming hard and durable. An oilcloth that has been made within the year is scarcely worth buying, as the paint will be defaced in a very little time, it requiring a long while to season. An oilcloth should never be scrubbed with a brush, but after being first swept it should be cleaned by washing with a large soft cloth and lukewarm or cold water. On no account use soap or take water that is hot, as either of them will certainly bring off the paint. When it has dried, you may sponge it with milk, which will brighten and preserve the colors, and then wipe it with a soft, dry cloth.

How to Keep Woolens White.

Among the things that are worth remembering is the fact that beeswax, broken in pieces and put within the folds of white woolens and white silks, will overcome the tendency toward yellowness that white fabrics have when laid away for any length of time.

TWO LITTLE BEAUTIES SAVED FROM DEATH BY PERUNA.

MRS. H. H. OVERMANN'S TWO LITTLE GIRLS.

"Enclosed find a picture of my two little girls who couldn't be without their Peruna. They have both had the measles since I last wrote to you, but even through the sickness I gave them the Peruna.

We have used Peruna constantly for the past two years with our children and have received the most satisfactory results. We would not be without it. The youngest one, Elsie, is the one that had bronchial trouble, and had it not been for your medicine she would have chocked to death. It has done wonders for her. Positively we couldn't keep house without Peruna. Yours gratefully,

2865 Winslow Ave., Cincinnati, O."

Mr. L. G. Vandegriff, Carrollton, Ga., writes: "I endorse your Peruna. I had a little girl ... ed with catarrh and have had two physicians to treat her and found no relief. After using two bottles of your Perunа she is sound and well. I am now giving it to my other children."

Mr. Joseph Kirchensteiner, 87 Croton street, Cleveland, O., says: "We have used Peruna for eight years as our family medicine. During the whole of that time we have not had to employ a physician.

Our family consists of seven, and we also use it for the thousand and one ailments to which mankind is liable. We have used it in cases of scarlet fever, measles and diphtheria. Whenever one of the family feels in the least ill, mother always says: 'Take Peruna and you will be well,' or if we do not happen to have any, 'We will have to get more Peruna.' Peruna is always satisfactory in colds and coughs."

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh. All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, and laryngitis are but different phases of catarrh.

These affections, in the acute form, may pass away without treatment, but they leave a foundation for chronic catarrh in later years. Even a slight cold is acute catarrh, and renders the mucous membrane of the head and throat more liable to chronic catarrh afterwards. The child is constantly assailed winter and summer, with catarrh.

Affections of the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhœa, are due to catarrhal derangements of these organs.

A great many families are learning by bitter experience that these affections must be promptly treated or the child's health is permanently injured.

Peruna is the remedy. No family should be without it. As soon as the symptoms of cold, cough or any other affection of the throat or stomach is noticed, Peruna should be given according to directions. A vast multitude of families are relying entirely upon Peruna for safety in this direction.

There are no substitutes. Peruna is the only systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession.

That Peruna can be relied upon is evidenced by the great number of testimonials which Dr. Hartman is receiving daily. Only a very few of these can be published. Only one in a thousand.

Every household should be provided with Dr. Hartman's free book on catarrh; also "Facts and Faces," a book of testimonials concerning Peruna sent free by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 20.—The cotton market opened steady with prices one to four points higher, the advance resulting from a flurry of covering and a little foreign buying, induced by light interior receipts and more bad weather news from the eastern belt. Following the call the market became listless and prices sagged off a few points under sales of early purchases by discouraged room operators. The news from the crop country was not much of a factor, though quite in line with the bullish information of late dates. Cold rains were reported east of the Mississippi and the forecast gave no signs of relief from the low temperatures during the next day or two at least. Receipts in the back country fell off to an unaccountable degree and port arrivals were kept up to normal only by reason of large movement at New Orleans, due to the termination of the stevedore strike. Fluctuations were limited to a mere five points, with January ranging between 7.50 and 7.55. Wall street bought late months in a quiet way; the South sent very little business. The close was steady, with November five points higher, July and August five points lower, and other months one point higher to two points lower.

How To Get Rich.

The men who are rich to-day, were, in nine cases out of ten, poor in early life. Their earnings at first very small, but their expenses were still less; the difference was carefully saved, deposited in some safe place, made to yield interest, and thus foundations were slowly laid for large accumulations. When a man begins to spend less than he makes his good fortune begins, and his luck favors him. Therefore begin to-day to save—be sure your money is in a safe place. We claim to be such a place and invite investigation. Money deposited now draws 4 per cent. from December 1st.

CORN FODDER ROOF.

CHEAP AND COMFORTABLE SHELTER FOR LAMBS.

When Properly Built, Will Not Leak, Affords Good Protection From Driving Winds—Fodder Can Be Fed When Shelter Is No Longer Needed.

For three winters I have been feeding lambs bought in the fall for winter market, writes an Ohio farmer to Rural New Yorker. To succeed well with them they must be kept dry and protected from driving winds.

As I have built a number of sheds covered with straw, I can judge from experience as to the value of this shed. I find it much more easily built and much cheaper and, as straw sheds are commonly built on the farm, much superior as proof against rain and cold winter storms.

Last year I had a shed covered with fodder 65 feet long and 16 feet wide, covering 1,000 feet of space, using 500 bundles of fodder, tied with strings, 4 feet long, or 65 shocks of fodder 14 hills square. This roof never leaked. By April 1 last year the lambs fed at the barn had gone to market, and the lambs sheltered by the temporary shed moved to the barn. During April the fodder roof was fed off to the stock in the adjoining lots, leaving the skeleton frame for use again this year.

Last fall I extended the shed in length to 100 feet, using 135 shocks of fodder cut 14 hills square, making 1,000 bundles, covering 1,600 feet of floor space. This shed stands north and south, the north end coming within ten feet of low down barn. A post and rail and post and plank fence is used for the west side of the framework of the shed. The cracks between the rails and planks were covered with cheap plank to keep the lambs from eating the fodder through the cracks after it is set against the fence. The framework is constructed for a comb roof. The center row of posts is seven feet high. It should be nine or ten feet, made from white oak poles about eight inches in diameter at the butt. They are set 2½ feet in the ground in a hole bored with a seven inch post auger, the posts being dressed to fit the hole. The soil is hard clay, so the posts stand firm.

The sides are about four feet high, the rafters on the west side resting on the top rail or plank of the fence. They should rest on top of posts about one foot higher. The center posts are set the same distance apart as fence posts and a rafter for each post, making them nine feet apart for the post and rail and six feet apart for the post and plank fence.

For the fodder to rest on rails are put across the rafters. The east side of the shed is open, the west made tight by laying fodder two or three bundles deep horizontal with the fence and then standing a row of bundles against these, leaving them over against the fence, bending the tops over the fence. The first course of bundles for the roof extends over this course set against the fence to shed the water off it. In covering this shed the courses of bundles were started at the north end and laid to the south. The first course is only one bundle thick. The butt of the bundles are down.

After putting on the first course I found that to top the next course directly on to this would make the roof too flat. To prevent this I laid a course on the rails above the first course. This gave a pitch for the second course the same as the first. Before putting on the next course I raised the pitch of the roof again with fodder. As nearly all the winds here blow from the west and southwest I put the fodder on the east side first, making the course at the top as near perpendicular as possible. To do this it was necessary to lay bundles lengthwise at the comb of the roof. Then the west side was covered, the top course standing up against the course on the east side, but a little higher. This keeps the wind from blowing the bundles off the east side. As all the bundles are laid from the north end toward the south each bundle as it goes down binds the preceding one, so if the wind takes them off it must commence with the last ones laid down. But to make sure of their staying on the top course has a strand of wire running the whole length of the shed, drawn tight with a wire stretcher. The roof so far has remained intact.

For a shed of this kind the steeper the roof frame can be made the less fodder it will take to cover it. It is useless to try to put on such a roof without bundling the fodder. For this shed the fodder bundles were taken from the farm wagon, but if required to be built much higher I would use my hay stacking derrick and hay slings to lift the bundled fodder on to the rick. As I have the shed, after the frame is made three men should take the bundled fodder from the shock and put on the roof in two days. I would not try to put it on when dry, but would work in the morning, when the fodder is damp, or when the weather is cloudy and damp. It is a cheap shed that is within the reach of every farmer.

How to Roast Bacon.

To roast bacon select a square piece weighing about three pounds. Soak it overnight. The next day put it over to boil, letting it simmer merely for an hour to each pound; then let it cool in the water in which it has cooked. When cold, remove, drain and take off the skin. Rub the fat well with sugar, pour over the bacon two cupfuls of cider vinegar and finish by roasting in the oven till brown.

How to Make Coffee Whip.

To be served in glasses. Place two tablespoonfuls of unground coffee in a pan and brown it; if already roasted, heat until very hot, stirring all the time. Turn at once into one pint of rich, cold cream with two tablespoonfuls of fine sugar and stir a minute. Let it become very cold, remove the coffee and whip to a stiff froth.

How to Remove Paint Odor.

To take away the smell from a room that has been newly painted slice up three or four onions into a dish and let it stand overnight in the room, with the doors and windows closed. Next morning the odor will have disappeared.

For Asthma use CHENEY'S EXPECTORANT.

How to Make Lemon Butter.

Put into a saucepan three tablespoonfuls of butter and a cup of granulated sugar. Beat the yolks of three eggs and the white of one egg very light and add to them the grated peel and juice of a good sized lemon. When the sugar and butter have melted, add slowly the eggs and lemon and stir over the fire until thick, watching carefully that the mixture does not scorch. When cold, spread upon cake layers. This is a delicious cake filling and universally liked.

How to Make Chocolate Blancmange.

Put in a double boiler one quart of milk. Add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and four shredded wheat biscuits, rolled fine. Cook for half an hour, stirring frequently. Then add half a cup of sugar and three teaspoonfuls of cocoa blended with two tablespoonfuls of hot milk. Stir and add one beaten egg and remove in a minute. Add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract and turn into a wetted mold. Serve cold with sugar and cream.

How to Make Batter Bread.

A pint of sifted meal, three eggs and butter or lard the size of an egg and a little over a pint of sweet milk. Pour boiling water over the meal until you have a stiff batter, stirring it all the time. Put in the butter, then the yolks of the eggs, then the milk and last of all the whites of the eggs, beaten till very stiff. Put in a well buttered tin or dish and bake 45 minutes. This in the south is a breakfast or dinner dish.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of every-day living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness, especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 21.

TRIAL OF MRS. IDA BONINE.

Jury Completed and the Court Adjourned. The Taking of Testimony Will Probably Begin To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—At a few minutes past three o'clock to-day the jury which is to try Miss Ida Bonine on the charge of murdering James Seymour Ayres, Jr., the young census clerk, was completed and the court then adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow, when a presentation of the case on behalf of the government will be made by the district attorney.

Mr. Douglass, representing Mrs. Bonine, said, after the court adjourned to day that he would reserve his opinion until after all the witnesses for the prosecution had been heard. It is expected therefore that the taking of testimony will begin during the forenoon session to-morrow.

The entire time of the court to-day was given up to the completion of the jury, and it was after two o'clock before a single additional acceptable juror had been secured. All told thirty-nine talesmen were presented during the day, and out of this number only three were accepted, nine of those left in the jury box yesterday being retained. The proceedings consisted of a dreary round of questions intended to develop the mental attitude of the would-be jurymen on the question of capital punishment, circumstantial evidence or prejudice for or against the defendant. As on yesterday a number of colored men were called, but all of them were excused, either for cause or upon the peremptory challenge of Mrs. Bonine's lawyers.

MRS. IDA M. FLAGLER.

Allowances Made for Her Proper Care and Maintenance in Dr. C. F. McDonald's Sanitarium.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 20.—Dr. Charles F. McDonald was to-day awarded $25,000 a year by Justice Clarke, in the Supreme Court, for the proper maintenance and care of Mrs. Ida M. Flagler, who has for a considerable period been a patient in the doctor's sanitarium. He was also allowed $5,000 for his services as committee of Mrs. Flagler's person. This was done upon the recommendation of Dr. McDonald that Mrs. Flagler should be placed in a position which, in accordance with her income and the manner in which she was accustomed to live, she could maintain her own establishment. Mrs. Flagler was until recently the wife of Henry M. Flagler.

Justice Clarke, upon the application of Charles F. Shourdes, Stephen C. Shourdes and Mrs. Mattie A. Johnson, the two brothers and sister of Mrs. Flagler, allowed them $4,000 a year each to be paid them out of her income. The reason given for making the allowance is that Mrs. Flagler was in the habit of making valuable presents to her brothers and sister, who are not in affluent circumstances, and that they, to whom the estate will revert upon Mrs. Flagler's death, are in need of an allowance from her estate.

FURNITURE MANUFACTURERS.

First Regular Meeting of the Southern Association Held in Charlotte.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Southern Furniture Manufacturers' Association, which was organized in Chattanooga one month ago, held its first regular meeting here to-day. President H. F. Temple, of Chattanooga, was in the chair, and all the other officers and about forty members were present. The meeting was secret, and when a recess was taken, Secretary Jones stated that absolutely none of the proceedings would be public; that the convention had considered subjects of importance to the trade, but that the proceedings would not even be published in the trade journals. He added that the meeting was entirely harmonious.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY REFUSES.

Will Not Consent to a Public Subscription to Pay His Expenses.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 20.—Following the report that the court of inquiry would cost Admiral Schley $20,000, the Knoxville Sentinel on November 18th sent the admiral a dispatch asking if he would consent to a public subscription to pay the amount. To-day the Sentinel received a personal letter from Admiral Schley, the purport of which was that he cannot accept the offer. He says the report as to the cost is a mistake, as the amount is not so great. He suggests that the matter is too delicate to discuss, and trusts that his friends will appreciate his position and respect it.

NEARLY BURIED ALIVE.

After the Funeral Services the Casket Was Opened at the Grave.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DECATUR, ALA., Nov. 20.—James Wynn, an Oxford blacksmith, narrowly escaped being buried alive today. After the funeral services the casket was opened at the grave, when the body was seen to move. The casket was hurried back to the home of Wynn, where he revived and is now under treatment. Wynn had been pronounced dead by physicians and he lay apparently dead for two nights and a day.

LIBERALS CAPTURE TOWN OF COLON.

The Government Forces Were Surprised and There Was Little Resistance.

LIBERAL LEADER WAS KILLED

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLON, COLOMBIA, via Galveston, Texas, Nov. 20.—The Liberals made an unexpected attack on Colon at 8 o'clock last night. The government was not prepared and there was little resistance. After some fighting in front of the cuartel and in certain streets for an hour and a half, the Liberals gained possession of all the public offices and the town of Colon. Over twelve men were killed and about thirty men were wounded.

On receipt of the news that Gen. Alban, the military commander of the Isthmus, had started to attack the Liberals at Chorerra, near Panama, the latter detached 160 men, under Gen. Patino, to attack Colon. This force embarked on board a train bound from Panama to Colon yesterday evening at Las Cascades station, previously cutting off telegraphic communication across the Isthmus. On arriving at the outskirts of Colon, where the government usually maintained a small guard, the Liberals left the train and in the initial skirmish, which began soon soon afterward, Gen. Patino was killed.

The command of the Liberals then devolved on Col. Frederico Barrera and they continued their march on Colon, arriving there a few minutes after the train, thus surprising the whole town. The government troops at Colon were outnumbered by the Liberals.

Fighting immediately began at the Cuartel barracks which was soon taken. There Senor Jaen, a judge of the criminal court, was killed, and Senor Muskus, the district representative of the department of the interior, was mortally wounded.

Fighting subsequently occurred at the town hall which was also taken by the Liberals. Among the prisoners captured by the Liberals there were the prefect guardia and the commandante of police.

Senor Parades, the mayor, managed to reach the gunboat General Pinzon, which sailed last night for a destination unknown, probably Carthagena. The whole affair was over in less than three hours.

Communication with Panama was resumed to-day. This revealed that no fighting occurred there, that every thing was quiet, and that the city was still in the hands of the government.

The issue now depends on the result of the fighting which is doubtless now occurring at Chorrera, news of which is anxiously awaited here. The Liberals are busy raising reinforcements locally. They are reported to have several hundred men at different railroad stations between here and Panama.

U. S. Marines Landed.

The United States gunboat Machias landed a detachment of marines here this morning. They are now guarding the railroad station and other property of the road.

At a conference between Commander McCrae, of the Machias, United States Consul Malmoros, C. D. Shaler, superintendent of the Panama railroad, and Col. Barrera, the commander of the Liberals, the latter was informed why the marines had been landed from the Machias. Barrera promised to guard the city with his troops.

Trains will be crossing the isthmus as usual to-morrow. There has been no obstruction of free transit so far.

The news of the capture of Colon, which reached Panama when communication with that city was restored this morning, was a great surprise to the inhabitants of that city.

Caused Commotion in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The confirmation of the capture of Colon by the Colombian Liberals caused a decided commotion in the State and Navy Departments to day. There were long conferences between Secretary Long and Admiral Crowninshield and between the admiral and the acting Secretary of State, Dr. Hill. Later, the two named went over to the White House and saw President Roosevelt.

The first news of the trouble at Colon came from United States Consul General Gudger, at Panama. He telegraphed the State Department that a considerable number of Liberals had taken possession of the railroad (he did not say where), and arriving at a certain point had cut the telegraph wires and taken up a rail, thus breaking communication. Later there came a second message from Consul General Gudger, announcing that Colon had been taken. This was confirmed more explicitly by United States Consul Malmaros, stationed at Colon. The latter official said that Colon was taken by the rebels last night. While all business is suspended, transit is not interrupted and American life and property are safe and not likely to be in danger.

Instructions Cabled.

As a result of the consultation today Secretary Hill cabled Consul General Gudger directions to notify all parties who are engaged in molesting or interfering with free transit across the isthmus that such interference must cease. He also was directed to consult freely with Captain Perry, the commander of the United States battleship Iowa, now lying at Panama. Then Captain Perry was cabled by Secretary Long to land marines if necessary for the protection of free transit across the isthmus in accordance with the treaty rights and obligations of the United States. At the same time Captain Perry was enjoined to avoid bloodshed if possible.

Meanwhile, news came that Commander McCrea, of the Machias, which is now lying at Colon, had anticipated this instruction from the Navy Department by landing a force of blue-jackets at Colon and occupying the railway station. The understanding at the Navy Department was that the landing party consisted of about 100 sailors, who are employed in lieu of marines, of whom the Machias has an insignificant force. The text of Commander McCrea's dispatch is as follows:

"U S S. Machias. Colon, Nov. 20.—Secretary Navy, Washington.—The insurgents have possession of the city. At the request of the proper authorities I have landed force for the protection of the property of the railroad.

(Signed) "MCCREA."

A cablegram received from Captain Perry, at Panama, confirms what Consul General Gudger communicated to the State Department to-day. It does not appear that Captain Perry has yet landed a force.

ALLEGED MURDERER GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Will Mathis, Charged With Killing Two Deputy Marshals Near Oxford, Miss. Mob Violence Feared.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

OXFORD, MISS., Nov. 20.—Will Mathis, who is charged with the murder of two deputy marshals, Montgomery by name, walked into the little town of Dallas, twelve miles south of here to-day and surrendered to a justice of the peace and two citizens. Mathis had been closely pursued by a large posse with bloodhounds, and realizing that his capture was certain, the fugitive voluntarily gave himself up and asked for protection. He was turned over to the posse and started for Oxford, but it is understood at a late hour to-night that he will not be brought to this city until to-morrow, the officers fearing mob violence.

When the news of the surrender reached Oxford the streets were immediately filled with people and intense excitement existed for a time. Bonfires were built and many threats of summary vengeance against the alleged murderer were heard on all sides. Addresses were made by the local officers and cool headed business men, and at 11 o'clock to-night the excitement has subsided, and it is believed that the threatened lynching has been averted. The local officers announce that they will protect the prisoner at all hazards.

OXFORD, MISS., Nov. 20.—A posse of citizens from this place brought Geo. Jackson to Oxford late this evening and placed him in the county jail. He is the brother of Bill Jackson who is also in jail for being an accessory to the killing of the two Montgomerys George Jackson, it is said, was with Mathis until this morning. Mathis is still at large but bloodhounds are on his track and a posse of twenty-five men armed with Winchesters is pursuing him. He is thought to be in Yocana bottom. The negro Olando Laster, placed under arrest Sunday, has confessed before the coroner's jury the details of the horrible crime. The negro states that Mathis induced the officers to spend the night at his house and shot them after they had gone to bed, the negro holding the lamp. The negro procured the gun for Mathis from Mat. Owens, Mathis' father in-law. The latter loaded the gun with buckshot before sending it to Mathis.

Mrs. Mathis has confessed to being in the house when her husband did the killing. She left for her father's soon afterwards and Mathis robbed the bodies of watches, money and pistols, pulled them on the floor, placed a straw mattress over them and set it on fire. Mrs. Mathis and the negro both admit that Bill Jackson, who left before the shooting occurred, tried to prevail on Mathis not to commit the crime.

A guard was placed around the county jail last night, as there were threats of lynching the prisoners charged with being accessory to Mathis' crime.

RECIPROCITY CONVENTION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, November 20.—At the forenoon session of the National Reciprocity Convention to-day, A. S. Valentine, of Bennington, Vt., president of the National Association of Knit Goods Manufacturers, offered the following resolution, as representing the views of that association:

"Resolved, That in the opinion of this convention the treaty known as the French Reciprocity Convention should not be ratified."

The resolution was referred to a committee.

James F. Taylor, a Cincinnati tanner, was the first speaker of the day. He protested strongly against the attitude of the ultra protectionists. He said that the existing evils might not be entirely ameliorated by either tariff revision or reciprocal trade conventions with other nations, but each remedy might work to the advantage of the American industrial operator if each were confined to its proper channels.

Titus Sheard, of Little Falls, N. Y., declared that "reciprocity never did and never will help this country and the interests demanding it, especially through the French reciprocity convention." He said the French reciprocity convention operated actually to reduce the duties on knit goods two to ten per cent. below the duties imposed by the Wilson bill.

Wm. C. Barker, of New York, representing the National Association of Agricultural Implement Manufacturers, advocated reciprocity. He said that unless reciprocity were applied as a safety valve, a tariff explosion would follow that would create general ruin.

The session adjourned at noon, when the officers of the convention and a committee of ten proceeded to the White House and called on President Roosevelt.

THIRTY LIVES WERE LOST.

Fire in a Colorado Mine—Seventeen Bodies Have Been Recovered—Fire Accidental and Soon Extinguished.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TELLURIDE, COLO., Nov. 20.—By a fire in the bullion tunnel belonging to the Smuggler-Union Mining Company probably thirty lives were lost to day. Seventeen bodies have been recovered. The fire, which is known to have been accidental, started early this morning in the buildings at the mouth of the tunnel. At this point is located the upper terminal of the tramway to the company's new mill at Pandora, and it was in the bunk house attached that the fire started. From this it spread to the terminal station, which, with its ore bins, machinery and supplies, is a mass of ruins.

The day shift of 200 men had entered the mine and reached their stations when the fire broke out.

The tunnel acted as a flue, and a great volume of smoke poured in, filled the slopes. About 170 of the men succeeded in reaching safety by a near exit. The fire rapidly burned itself out, but the mine was so filled with smoke that it was six hours before rescuing parties could penetrate the slopes where the less fortunate were. Seventeen dead have been removed from the mine to-night. The engineer, Hugh J. O'Neill, was found alive, but is not expected to recover. No list of the dead is obtainable at this time.

TRAIN WRECK ON SANTA FE ROAD.

THREE ENGINES EXPLODED.

Cars Took Fire and Burned Up—Seven Trainmen Were Killed—Three Passengers and Fourteen Trainmen Injured—An Awful Scene.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

LOS ANGELES, CAL., November 20.—A fatal wreck occurred on the Santa Fe railroad, one mile west of Franconia, Arizona, a switch station twenty miles east of Needles, Cal., early this morning. Seven trainmen were killed, three passengers and fourteen trainmen injured. Limited trains, east and west bound, crashed together while running at full speed. The east bound train was drawn by two engines, while the west bound train had but one locomotive.

The three engines were crushed and blown to pieces by an explosion which followed the collision. Both trains were made up of vestibule cars of the heaviest kind, and while they stood the terrific shock well and protected the passengers to a great extent, several of the cars took fire at once and burned up. The dining car, one of each train, one Pullman and two composite cars were destroyed.

The collision is said to have been due to a disregard of orders by the crew of the west bound train, though full particulars on this point are as yet lacking. From all accounts, however, it is gathered that the east bound train had orders to take the siding at Franconia and await the passing of the west bound flyer, which was running two hours late and trying to make up the time. The east bound train failed to reach the siding, and as the west bound train did not wait for it the two trains came together without warning and with an awful crash. The boiler of the west bound engine is said to have exploded immediately after the crash, scalding to death those of the engine crews who had not been killed outright.

A scene of awful confusion followed the crash. The massive engines piled up in an indescribable mass of broken and twisted steel, while the scalding steam hung in a dense, suffocating cloud over the debris, from which the agonizing cries of the injured and dying engineemen could be heard. The heavy Pullman and composite cars jammed the dining and baggage cars upon the heated pile of debris, carrying death to the dining car crews and setting the cars afire.

From the meagre details of the scene gathered from the passengers, it is learned that the sleeping cars, with one or two exceptions, suffered slightly, and as a result the passengers were afforded comparative immunity from injury. So far as learned only three passengers, all from California, suffered injuries of a serious character, the terrible results of the wreck being confined almost entirely to the train crews and the employes of the dining car service.

The west bound limited carried a full passenger list from Eastern cities, but it appears none was injured.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

By Telegraph to the Morning star.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—The 28th national convention of the W. C. T. U. ended its regular session this afternoon with the adoption of a sensational deliverance on the attitude of the reform forces in New York city in respect to the partial opening of saloons on Sunday. The following is the resolution, offered by Mrs. Boole, of New York:

"The victory of the Fusion ticket in New York city, which resulted in the overthrow of Tammany Hall, has caused general rejoicing. The victory was gained by the united efforts of good people, but we learn with regret that some of the leaders are advocating opening saloons on Sunday.

"We, the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, representing the motherhood of the nation, and vitally interested in the welfare of the homes of this country, desire to enter our protest against Sunday opening, or any attempt to give the liquor traffic longer hours or greater privileges. We earnestly urge the law-abiding and moral citizens of New York State to stand for a strict enforcement of the Sunday closing law and the abolition of the Raines law hotel."

Mrs. Boole supported the resolution in an impassioned speech.

The proceedings opened this morning with reports of organizers. A large increase in membership was shown in the Pacific coast States, South Dakota, Idaho and Texas.

Organizers, lecturers and evangelists for the coming year were appointed.

An official statement was made that the total membership of the W. C. T. U. is about three hundred thousand, paid membership is 160,000; number of delegates at this convention 393, largest local union is at Portland, Me., with 265 members.

All unfinished business was referred to the past executive session and after the benediction the convention adjourned sine die.

U. S. MARINES CAPTURE INSURGENT STRONGHOLD

Scaled Cliffs Two Hundred Feet High. Thirty Filipinos Killed—Arms and Stores Were Captured.

By Cable to the Morning Star

MANILA, November 20.—Major L. J. L. Waller, of the marine corps, has cabled Rear Admiral Rodgers, at Manila, a full and detailed account of the attack, November 7th, by the men of his command upon the rebel stronghold at Sojoton, near Basey, Island of Samar.

Three insurgent camps were destroyed, forty bamboo cannon were captured and much rice and other stores were destroyed. The rebel stronghold was almost impregnable. The trails leading to it were lined with poisoned spears sticking from the ground and were filled with hidden pitfalls. Major Waller's command attacked the enemy unexpectedly. To do this they had to scale a cliff two hundred feet high; this they scaled barefooted over bamboo ladders. At the top they found boulders piled ready to precipitate upon an attacking party. Major Waller says he was personally not present at the action. He praises Capt. David D. Porter and Capt. Hiram I. Bears for their splendid work and says too much praise cannot be given the marines themselves, whose behavior he characterized as brilliant in every respect. The major considers the scaling of cliffs 200 feet high a new feature of warfare, and says such men will be able to do anything anywhere. Thirty of the enemy were killed. The marines sustained a few trifling wounds.

Rear Admiral Rodgers has replied to Major Waller, congratulating him on this successful action by his command.

U. S COURT DECISION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 20.—United States Judge C. D. Clark today passed upon a case involving the Sherman anti-trust law brought against the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, an organization which has formed a combination of fertilizer companies in Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina and Georgia, and it is claimed advanced prices of fertilizer unreasonably. A firm brought suit in a State court to break up the combination and secure damages. The case was transferred to the Federal court and has been dismissed by Judge Clark, who holds that a suit to dissolve a trust and also to recover damage cannot be joined and maintained in a Federal court.

CRISIS IN SERVIA.

Rumors That Queen Draga Has Been Assassinated at Belgrade.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

VIENNA, Nov. 20.—An unconfirmed report has reached Vienna that Queen Draga has been shot at in the streets of Belgrade.

The Neue Freire Presse and other Vienna papers publish various rumors, one declaring that the Servian Queen was assassinated, another that she was wounded, and a third that she committed suicide. Reports from other sources deny the statement that Queen Draga was killed and assert that the rumor of her death was caused by an hysterical scene with King Alexander.

There is no reliable information on the subject here, but it is generally believed that a serious crisis exists in Belgrade.
